

Teachers & the Culturally Responsive-Sustaining (CR-S) Education Framework

Principle 1: Creating a Welcoming & Affirming Environment

A Welcoming and Affirming Environment feels safe. It is a space where people can find themselves represented and reflected and where they understand that all people are treated with respect and dignity. The environment ensures all cultural identities (i.e., race, ethnicity, age, gender, sexual orientation, disability, language, religion, socioeconomic background) are affirmed, valued, and used as vehicles for teaching and learning.

Principle 2: Fostering High Expectations and Rigorous Instruction

High Expectations and Rigorous Instruction prepares learners for rigor and independent learning. The environment is academically rigorous and intellectually challenging while also considering the different ways students learn. Instruction includes opportunities to use critical reasoning, take academic risks, and leverage a growth mindset to learn from mistakes. Messages encourage positive self-image and empower others to succeed.

Principle 3: Identifying Inclusive Curriculum & Assessment

An Inclusive Curriculum and Assessment elevates historically marginalized voices. It includes opportunities to learn about power and privilege in the context of various communities and empowers learners to be agents of positive social change. It provides the opportunity to learn about perspectives beyond one’s own scope. It works toward dismantling systems of biases and inequities and decentering dominant ideologies in education.

Principle 4: Engaging in Ongoing Professional Learning & Support

Ongoing Professional Learning and Support is rooted in the idea that teaching and learning is an adaptive process needing constant re-examination. It allows learners to develop and sharpen a critically conscious lens toward instruction, curriculum, assessment, history, culture, and institutions. Learners must be self-directed and take on opportunities that directly impact learning outcomes.
